

Hello Falcons Families,

I hope everyone has been able to take time at home to read, read, read! Don't forget that there are lots of amazing audio and eBooks available through our destiny site.

I am sure you have been wondering about your library books now that our school has opened back up.

At this time, I am asking that families hold onto any library books you may have at home. The library is currently under construction and there's just nowhere to put them all!

If you are not returning to Ferris in the fall, you may bring library books back to the office.

Thank you for your understanding and support in these ever-changing times.
