WHEN SHOULD YOUR CHILD STAY HOME

As busy parents, it's not always easy—or convenient—to decide when to keep your child home from school. To help guide you, below are the criteria we use to determine when a child should stay home:

- It has been less than 24 hours since your child had a fever (37.5°C or higher)
- It has been less than 24 hours since your child last vomited or had diarrhea.
- Your child has tested positive for COVID-19.
- Your child has a cough, runny nose, new rash and/or sore throat.
- Your child seems overtired or not their usual self. If your child is not well enough to go outside for recess or is too tired to participate in class activities, this is a good indication that they should stay home.
- Skin sores that are weeping fluid located on an exposed part of the body that cannot be covered with a bandage.

Keeping your child home when they are unwell helps speed up their recovery and supports a healthy school environment for everyone.
